RECORD OF THE DECISION
a) The issue Under section 192 of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990, an applicant can ascertain whether any development carried out in, on, over or under land is lawful. This can be done by applying for a certificate of lawfulness. This application is seeking to ascertain that the proposed development outlined in the application is lawful (without the need for a formal planning application) by virtue of Section 55 of The Town and Country Planning Act 1990. b) The Decision The Certificate be issued for the proposed development. Planning application reference: 041498

REASON FOR THE DECISION The assessment is a matter of law, fact and degree. The applicants have submitted proposals that satisfy the requirements of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 and the Town and Country Planning (Use Classes) Order 1987Act.
ALTERNATIVE OPTIONS CONSIDERED AND REJECTED IN MAKING THE DECISION Reject the application. This was not an option in view of the submitted proposals. The proposed change of use from Use Class C3 to Use Class C2 in respect of 78 Wheat Street would be lawful within the meaning of Section 192 of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990. This is because whilst it would constitute a change of use, there is not considered to be a material change when considering the number of children residing at the property would not be an unusual number and therefore, would mirror a dwellinghouse use. The changes would not constitute a 'material change' therefore the proposal would not amount to development as set out in Section 55 of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990, meaning it does not require planning permission. This therefore confirms that the proposal would be lawful, on the specified date and thus, would not be liable to enforcement action under Section 172 of the Town and Country Plan Act 1990.
